

Peek at our WEEK

HIGHLIGHTS

This week our class reflected on the progress we made this past trimester and the different things we enjoyed learning about. Our reflections will be shared at our March Conferences later this month.

In Reading, we read a variety of nonfiction books focusing on how plants grow, why most plants need soil, and seed dispersal. Students practiced asking questions and gathering important information shared from these books.

In Writing, we focused on our handwriting and free writing about topics of our choice.

In Math, we began our money unit. Students practiced identifying and counting coins including, pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters, and half dollars. It would be greatly beneficial if your family has discussions and practices counting coins at home as well!
